PRE-APPEAL BRIEF REQUEST FOR REVIEW

Hon. Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks

Sir:

In response to the Office Action mailed March 8, 2007, please consider the following in appeal of the dismissal decision and the basis thereof:

The petition to review the above-identified application was dismissed because the reply, it is asserted, was not an amendment that prima facie places the application in condition for allowance.

It is respectfully suggested that the corrected reply that was submitted with the petition to revive on July 11th, 2006 was not either the reply that was considered in making a determination regarding the petition to revive and that a determination of the completeness of the reply that was filed with the petition to revive was improperly made because it raised new grounds that the applicant was previously not made aware of and therefore could not have possibly corrected.

This belief is based, in part, on the fact that certain of the reasons cited in the dismissal of the petition to revive are identical to those that were cited in a Notice of Non-Compliant Amendment that was mailed on April 3, 2006 with the exception of the comments appertaining to claim 21. Claim 21 is discussed hereinbelow. However, these defects had been corrected in the reply that was filed on July 11, 2006. The Notice of Non-Compliant Amendment was the Office's response to an "Amendment After Final" that was mailed on 12-23-2006. The defects in the Amendment After Final that was mailed on 12-23-2006 were corrected in the reply (i.e., a "Corrected Amendment After Final") that was submitted on July 11th, 2006 along with the petition to revive and therefore cannot possibly be proper basis for the dismissal of the petition to revive.

As relevant background information, a death in the immediate family on April 30, 2006 (a copy of the death certificate for Manuel Petrakis, father of my wife Stella Petrakis-Rinne, is enclosed) and the effects thereof resulted in a delay in the mailing of the response (i.e., the reply) to the Notice of Non-Compliant Amendment.

This delay occurred because I am a solo practitioner and because his death had significant impact on the surviving family. Consequently, the response to the notice of Non-Compliant Amendment was made at the first available opportunity, and was mailed on July 11, 2006. This response included a "Corrected Amendment After Final", a one-page letter of transmittal, a petition for revival of an application for patent abandoned unintentionally, and the required fee of $750.00.

Specifically, the continuation of 4(e) that was provided with the dismissal states, "Other: Claims 11-12, and 14, "(previously amended)" should be changed to --(previously presented)-- and claim 21, "(re-presented)" should be changed to -(previously presented)-- for clarification." These are believed to have been corrected in the corrected amendment after final that was mailed along with the petition to revive on July 11, 2006. Therefore, this cannot be proper basis for dismissal if they were in fact corrected by the reply that accompanied the petition. At the very least it provides confusion and makes a proper response at this time by the applicant impossible to accomplish.

An additional reason was also cited in the dismissal sent March 8, 2007 regarding claim 21 that asserted that applicant failed to show marked up changes for claim 21 when it changed from a method claim to an apparatus claim using underline, bracket, or strikethrough. This is believed to also be an incorrect basis for the dismissal. This is because the Office Action that was mailed on April 30, 2006 (i.e., The Notice of Non-Compliant Amendment) failed to make mention that any changes to claim 21 were required or were a basis of non-compliance. Accordingly, the applicant would certainly well-believe that the only required changes necessary to bring the Amendment After Final into condition of allowance were those that were specified in the notice of non-compliant amendment; specifically the changes to the claim identifiers.

Accordingly, the reply that was submitted on July 11, 2006 along with the petition for revival can only rightly be evaluated for compliance based on the content of the notice of non-compliant amendment that was mailed on April 30, 2007. It is improper to add new grounds at this time and then penalize the applicant for not having foresight to somehow anticipate and correct them. The applicant had no notice whatsoever provided by the USPTO to include marked up changes for claim 21 or that such changes to claim 21 were required to bring the Amendment After Final into compliance. This request was not part of the original requirement to bring the amendment after final into compliance. Therefore, it could not possibly be included as part of the reply that was a bona fide effort to correct the defects that were cited in the Notice of Non-Compliant Amendment.

Upon the Examiner's later (subsequent) review and determination that further changes to claim 21 were required to the Amendment After Final, these changes should have been communicated to the applicant by way of a second Notice of Non-Compliant Amendment. In other words, it is respectfully suggested and requested that the petition for revival should have been allowed as proper and that a subsequent office action should be mailed to the applicant regarding the newly found grounds of non-compliance for claim 21. Otherwise, the applicant is being penalized for making a bona fide effort complying with all of the stated requirements of an Office Action (i.e., the notice of non-compliant amendment) and subsequent to his compliance, not being granted a resumption of the normal course of prosecution.

Please grant the petition to revive the application.

Respectfully submitted:

Risto A. Rinne, Jr.
